„Geoengineering and Planetary Movement for Mother Earth‘
(1)

Introductory Remarks:

I hesitated to accept the invitation to this symposium, as I cannot offer you a message that will please you. I do not think that the synthesis of contemporary science and spirituality will eventually lift the earth and our consciousness to a higher level. On the contrary! Modern science and spirituality as they are being practised already form a sythesis inasmuch as as spirituality turns a blind eye on the crimes committed by science. Without a radically different science and a radically different spirituality a synthesis of the two is not at all worth striving for. Therefore we first need to develop a vision in what way science and spirituality would have to radically change to form a fruitful alliance.

In more concrete terms we are talking about the modern science of geoengineering and the ‚Planetary Movement for Mother Earth‘, which was founded three years ago and presently has close to 800 members. Our aim is to start a public discussion about the globally practised and planned destructive methods and procedures of the military, of politics, economics, science and technology (quoted from the statute of the ‚Planetary Movement for Mother Earth‘).

1. Proposal: We change the perspective from which we look upon the earth.

- a) We are trees in the Amazon approached by the motor saw.
- b) We are plankton in the Pacific Ocean off the east coast of Japan. Hundreds of thousands of tons of highly radioactive cooling water from the devastated complex of reactors in Fukushima are flowing into the ocean. (I have just learned that the radioactivity at this point has reached a level that would kill a person exposed to it within 4 hours: 2.200 mil. Sievert!)

- c) We are a field in the blue of the planet and the electromagnetic bundle of rays of the ionospheric heater called HAARP in Alaska is starting to bombard us cutting the atmosphere like a knife.
- d) We are plants in spring and wish to grow, but the sun cannot reach us because of the dense and broad chemical spraying stripes called chemtrails in the sky and later on we are hit by aluminium, barium and strontium which gives us a shock. And though the sun will reach us some time later in the year it will bring ultraviolet and possibly also cosmic gamma- and x-rays penetrating the air weakened by the loss of the protective ozone. And these rays burn the already diminished blossoms, leaves and fruit.

What we see from this is that men attack and destroy nature and all its elements, even the entire earth in its „life systems“ (as Bertell called them) as if they wanted to oust life from the earth, the only planet on which we can live in all its material abundance. It is as if men had lost their ability to think which they are so proud of as well as their ability to feel. We have lost every sense of responsibility, every affection, compassion, caring, let alone love for the planet. For men accept the destruction, they participate in it in great numbers or look the other way. What has happened to them?

From the perspective of nonhuman life we experience that ‚the ones up there‘, but also ‚the many down here‘ put life, the earth and everything that lives on it at stake!

And as human beings we experience that there is no official discussion about it, on the contrary, this discussion is suppressed everywhere, and those who bring up the issue are defamed as people conjuring up a conspiracy theory, also as lunatics who get in the way of progress, the good things and development.

What they are aiming at is that officially nobody notices and points at the destruction even of our planet, but that the destruction paradoxically is to be considered as something good and fitting! We seem to need the ‚sacrifice‘ to move this civilization ‚forward‘. But where to?

Allegedly the destruction is followed by the new creation of something better, even higher, and is therefore justified. Everything else is defined as sentimentality. For the soil, the tree, water and the food chain, light and air are considered as ‚mere matter‘ or ‚material‘, and not as living beings in their own right which are of importance to the earth. And the earth as such is but a lump of dead matter to them.

The ones up there are totally anthropocentric with man ranking highest and everything else below at his disposal.

The patriarchal project of the dominance over nature, of its destruction and transformation has earned them a lot of money and vested them with even more power. This is the reason why it is so popular with them, and why it has even become the universal religion of modernity. And now this alchemical project of ‚creation through destruction‘, as I call it, is no longer to be restricted to the micro-dimension of life (the atom, the gene and the nano dimension of the living matter). It is also to conquer the macro-dimension of life, the earth as our planet, and change it into their colony.

This is geoengineering in its broadest meaning: the attempt to subjugate the entire planet to the control, the manipulation and destructive transformation of the ruling class, using already existing and yet to be invented means with the aim to turn the planet into an allegedly better one, namely into a subservient mega-machine.

(And if Mother Earth does not go along with this plan, she is demonized as ‚evil nature‘, as a kind of mega-witch which has to be tortured and violently changed in order to become the ‚good nature‘ - as a mega-machine - for the Sirs).

For them only life in the sense described above is positive, i.e. if it behaves the way THEY want it!

(Geoengineering developed after the construction and launch of the atomic bomb in 1945, a huge physical experiment of which none of the scientists involved knew if it would cause an electromagnet shock which could well have destroyed the entire planet. This risk was taken!

Therefore nobody can say anymore that it comes as a surprise when I talk about the hubris of geoengineering. It is clearly in accordance with the psychopathy of the ones up there).

2. What is geoengineering and what does it do?

For more than 60 years, namely since the end of World War II, the military in the east and the west have been developing technologies, which the North American scientist and laureate of the Right Livelihood Award, Dr. Rosalie Bertell, refers to as ‚weather war, plasma weapons and geoengineering‘. Her book ‚Planet Earth – The Latest Weapon of War‘ led to the foundation of our movement. We translated it into German and updated it by adding recent material. It is available at our stall.

The authoress says: What they are planning now are climate and weather wars, wars in which earthquakes, volcanic eruptions, flooding and droughts, hurricanes and monsoon rains play a role‘ (p. 46). Much of it had already been applied for the first time in the Vietnam War. For this reason the UN drafted their ENMOD Convention in 1977 in which it says: ‚Under no circumstances should earthquakes, tsunamis, a disruption of the ecological balance of a region, changes of the weather -including the formation of clouds, cyclones, tornadoes-, climate change, changes of the oceanic currents, changes of the ozone layer as well as of the condition of the ionosphere' be caused 'for military or hostile reasons.'

This happened 36 years ago. Most of us, nevertheless, have been ignoring this development of decades, though the above described technologies are feasible since long and can indeed be applied!

However, the UN has not ruled out the peaceful application of such already existing technologies. Hence, it was possible to build the radar unit HAARP (High Active Auroral Research Project) in the nineties of the last century, which is the largest so-called ionospheric heater in the world. And, indeed, HAARP claims to be a basically peaceful plasma physics research project – on the basis of anything but Tesla patents!

In 1999 the European Parliament called for a closer examination of HAARP, a demand which was turned down by the EU Commission on the grounds that HAARP be a military project devoid of European influence. Proof enough that this is not a civil but a military project.

Hence, this issue was not tackled all these years. However, in April 2013, 14 years later, a new attempt was made. In the European Parliament a meeting was organized, entitled 'Civil Society versus Geoengineering'. On this occasion 48 activists (I was one of them) from all over Europe gathered to debate the latest findings on this topic.

There we also watched the film by the US-American activist Michael Murphy: 'Why in the World are they Spraying?' which can be seen on YouTube.

At our stall you find a petition inviting you to join the protest of the organization of parliamentarians called 'Skyguards', which organized this meeting and is proposing that this issue be also officially dealt with in the European Parliament. (The members of 'Skyguards' are active and former European parliamentarians).

For, as Bertell says: 'If the military meddles with air, water and soil we have to be informed about it, as these are our vital resources.' (p. 49)

And it concerns us already: chemtrails, chemical spraying, has been practised in military and civil aviation both in Europe (since the nineties) and in the US (since the eighties) and has intensified since. It pollutes the lower atmosphere with millions of tons of aluminium, barium, strontium, viruses, gene- and nano particles as well as polymers which are dumped doing damage to water, soil and living beings. Field crops are suffering and we are also faced with the fact that organic farming will no longer be possible after years of spraying. The consequences are deficiency symptoms on the one hand, and the inability of the body to discharge the metals on the other. We breathe in all these metals in the form of nano particles which reach all our organs, including the brain, leading to memory decline, Alzheimer's disease, pulmonary diseases, „morgellons“ – (as the result of inhaling micro-fibers, not recognized as a disease yet) - and unknown synergistic effects, in particular between barium and aluminium.

The intake of aluminium (and eventual nano-sensors) makes us susceptible to HAARP activities, the purpose of which is so-called mass-mind-control (control of our thoughts and feelings) by way of the use of Electro-Magnetic ELF- waves, let alone the general conductive function for EM-waves of artificial clouds containing metal, or the ability of chemtrails to conduct storms (allegedly Hurricane Sandy in NY), being classified as extreme weather manipulation.

In view of the chemical contamination – or rather chemical warfare – the multinational enterprise Monsanto has already developed aluminium-resistant seeds.

The use of so-called Solar Radiation Management (SRM), the spraying of the atmosphere with so-called aerosoles, particles, that allegedly merely dim the sunlight and avoid the excessive warming of our planet, supposedly caused by the emission of carbon dioxide is not something that is only planned for the future (as Bill Gates, one of its main promoters, emphasizes), but it is already taking place since decades. However, the academic discussion of the civil geoengineers, started from above, suggests just that it is a mere project for times to come. (Among these scientists are Edward Teller, the inventor of the thermonuclear bomb, his disciple Lowell Wood, and David Keith and Ken Caldeira).

The use of this technology has been common practice for decades already, obviously for very different purposes.

Now the UN has intervened again. In 2010 it proposed a moratorium against geoengineering drafted at the environmental conference in Nagoya!

Bertell comments on all this as follows: They are meddling with the life-systems of the planet before even knowing how they are functioning (and it is uncertain if we would ever be able to experience their original functioning at all).

According to Bertell the earth has already become a „victim of military research“, a victim of ‘military alchemy’, as I call it.

(The scientists get down to business by means of ‘trial and error’ as is the case in other areas of science as well, i.e. they try something out usually leading to destruction and observe what happens).

You cannot test geoengineering in the laboratory but only in a planetary outdoor test, as was the case with the atomic explosion.

(It means continuing with the torture of nature which is known since the times of the so called witches. This program of Francis Bacon, the famous founder of modern science in the 17th century, since then started to be applied to all fields of the so called domination of nature).

Bertell makes a case that the earth has been turned into a weapon of war by manipulating its own forces, e.g. its electromagnetic ones, and artificially intensifying them so that they become ‘plasma weapons’ that can be fired back to the earth via the ionosphere. The ionosphere would be functioning as a ‘gun barrel’. This act of war could do immense damage to us as indeed to the earth herself. Tesla had already discovered this 100 years ago. (cf. his term ‘Magnifying Transmitter’). This is the way in which the so-called natural disasters can be produced of which we have been experiencing 10 times as many since the seventies (an estimate made by Bertell).

It means that we can no longer know today which of the ongoing disasters are natural and which are artificially induced ones.

(However, it is very difficult to prove if a ‘natural’ disaster has been caused artificially. So far we have only been able to analyze the parallel HAARP activity and watch the plasma stripes similar to parts of auroras or rainbows in the sky which become visible on the path of the EM-waves through the atmosphere being heated this way. Such a stripe was seen when the huge earthquake struck in Haiti in 2010 resulting in a quarter of a million fatalities.

The era in which the planet is said to be under human control is called the anthropocene, the era of humankind. It will not last long, as we can already see.)

The damage that has already been done (inasmuch as we know about it) is indicating how they are indeed „wrecking“ our planet, as Bertell calls it.

(cf. presidential advisor Gordon Mac Donald: ‘How to Wreck the Environment’, 1968)

Bertell found out that the rotation of the earth has slowed down, the earth ‚wobbles‘ like a spinning washing machine (which can be the effect of „Deep Earth Penetrating Tomography“, sending ELF-waves through the core of the earth). The magnetic field of the earth, the Van-Allen-Belts, have been damaged; the ionosphere, the upper layer of the atmosphere, has got holes and incisions, also caused by rockets and supersonic flights, and is increasingly heated up by the bombardment with EM-waves.

Presently there are between one and two dozens of ionospheric and radar-facilities worldwide. The latest of them called MUOS is just being built in Sicily (seemingly not for the use of low ELF, but high frequency EM waves, guiding Drones etc.).

As a result of the degradation of the protective atmospheric layers the earth is exposed to increasing amounts of cosmic radiation. Ozone holes have been developing under which life is dying.

All these factors together, and not merely the civil CO2 emissions, in particular the military experiments that have been going on for decades are causing the climate and weather change we are experiencing today. Bertell never ceased to point to the principal importance of the activities of the military in this respect.

(This coincides, by the way, with the time lag of nature which takes 50 to 60 years to respond to human activities.)

The deicing of the Arctic is also the result of its bombardment with ELF-EM-waves by the Soviets and the US (cf. the 1974 secret treaty of Vladivostok, part of Salt II). This may even lead to an accelerated pole shift and a rupture of the Gulf Stream (which has been weakened already) causing the northern hemisphere to freeze over. (They are melting the ice in order to exploit the mineral resources below. Some oil companies of Russia and the US have already started to do it. And for intercontinental transport they would not need the Panama-canal any more..)

Hence, an above-average warming of the Arctic is not the result of climate change caused by CO2 emissions, either, as we are constantly made to believe. (The troposphere where the CO2 gathers has not changed much as opposed to the ionosphere further up.)

If we do not pay attention to all this we will very soon have to swallow geoengineering as the solution to the problems caused by geoengineering – and we will even do this with our own consent!

On top of it an ozone hole has been developing over the Arctic. According to Bertell, the radioactive fallout of Fukushima has led to the first ozone hole ever at the North Pole. For it is not the CFCs – as we are told – but radioactivity that really harms the ozone layer!

This may lead to great difficulties in agriculture. We can already witness signs of it in Africa, Australia and the midwest of the USA. This year, as a result of sky and weather manipulations lasting for months, Europe is also facing enormous crop losses in a broad corridor from Spain to Moscow. There was no spring, followed by floods (leaving behind toxic sediments) and eventually tropical heat and drought for weeks.

And the weather derivatives at the stock exchanges are making huge profits. Yes, there is already speculation with weather manipulation. And this is no conspiracy theory! They are doing business and making huge profits with the destruction of the earth and life on it.

Geoengineering comprises various technologies which can be applied at the same time.

(They all lead to warlike conditions on our planet, to militarization on a global scale, to a so-called ‚weaponization‘.

The US Air Force is part of the weather manipulation taking place, see: ‚Weather as a Force Multiplier. Owning the Weather in 2025‘. They started in 1996.

And the Marine is killing hundreds of thousands of whales and dolphins with their experiments under water in the oceans ..)

However, we are not aware of everything that is taking place, nor are we aware of the speed at which the experiments and their harmful consequences increase, for more and more governments and the military all over the world are applying these technologies. Therefore nobody really knows what is indeed happening, how these experiments are carried out, either mutually supportive or fighting one another, what their synergetic effects are and to what extent they have already done irreversible damage to the biosphere or are about to do so.

Bertell warns us: ‚If we wait until we have understood everything, it will be too late!‘

She suggests parting with the secrecy surrounding military activities and installing acknowledged International Courts of integrity with the purpose of replacing war by peaceful dispute settlements for all times in the future. (cf.p.32)

(She acknowledges efforts that aim at the abolishment of the nuclear threat. But she also asks herself whether those negotiating these agreements are aware of Telsa's research about a split of the planet into two parts, or about the possibility of the delicate equilibrium between the earth and the sun, the moon and the sun and the earth and the moon being destroyed that would catapult the earth into the sun or into space. For these, according to Bertell, are real possibilities of weather wars for which at least 4 nations are already preparing. (cf. Bertell 2000, p.32)

Tesla, who had also developed technological alternatives (cf. 'free energy') thought such weapons would never be used because of their extremely dangerous effects for the whole of humanity and the planet, so that we would approach the End of war. Today he would be appalled).

The new kinds of wars which need not be declared and can be staged clandestinely (as stated by presidential advisor Mac Donald as early as 1968) can be witnessed everywhere. Possibly even Fukushima is already part of them. They are consistent with Bertell's insight that the military is always 50 years ahead of the rest of us and that the military never uses the same weapons in a war as in the previous one. (p. 48)

Hence, there is no way in which a planetary spirituality can be integrated into this kind of eco- and geo-terrorism called science. However, we cannot look the other way and ignore all this. Obviously, what needs to be done is to enter into a dispute at two fronts at a time, dealing with both the current situation and the much needed alternative -

...in case we can continue with this task in view of the impending bombardment of Syria, which can officially become WW III.

What can be done?
